Archbishop Laud.

The assumption of the divine right of kings to rule was the stumbling block, or rather the executioner's block, that lost the head of the one-time archbishop of Canterbury, who, according to his own statements, was called to the council of Charles I. against his will. Yet he devised and executed many unwarrantable revenue schemes; he, doubtless, believed in the divine right of kings, and being opposed induced him to concur in many cruel and arbitrary schemes, to crush opposition, and to render his master independent of parliament. These schemes succeeded for awhile, but at length failing, he was impeached, and his head cut off January 10, 1645.

Old Forge Site.

Readers of history recall that, in order to prevent the British fleet from ascending the Hudson river during the Revolutionary war, a long chain, composed of immense links, was made and stretched across the river. It had the desired effect. Portions of this chain are yet in existence, some at the Military academy at West Point, N. Y. A boulder monument has been erected on the site on which stood the forge where were made parts of the chains thrown across the Hudson. This stone was erected by the Daughters of the American Revolution of Newburgh, N. Y., in order to suitably mark this historic spot for future generations.

Your Library.

Consider what you have in the smallest chosen library. A company of the wisest and wittiest men that could be picked out of all civilized countries, in one thousand years, have set in best order the result of their learning and wisdom. The men themselves were hid and inaccessible, solitary, impatient of interruption, fenced by etiquette; but the thought which they did not uncover to their bosom friend is here written out in transparent words to us, the strangers of another age.—Emerson

S. E. MO. HIGH SCHOOL

MEET, MAY 9 AND 10

Southeast Missouri's big High School Meet will be held at Cape Girardeau, May 9 and 10, 1919. Every high school in Southeast Missouri is eligible to sell contestants to the Meet. There will be contests in essay, declamation, debating, typewriting, shorthand, and athletics. Silver cups are offered as prizes to winning teams, and successful individual contestants will be given medals, badges, and trophy cups of various sizes.

The Meet is one of the big events of the year in Southeast Missouri. Usually about 2000 people attend the games, half of them coming from surrounding towns.

The team representing the big Webster Groves high school has won the Meet for three years, but they will not compete this year. This gives an opportunity for any high school in this section to carry off first honors, as no team stands out clearly superior to others.

Much interest is taken in the Meet by the Cape Girardeau Commercial Club, which has promised to support it heartily this year.

Ellis Kohn left Monday night for Columbia, where he enters the State University for a preparatory course of two years, after which he will probably take up either medicine or law. Ellis is a graduate of this city's High School, which will be a great advantage in entering the University, and as he is a very apt and studious young man, we are sure should he take up either of these studies he will acquit himself with honors.

Not since the fire in February, in which the postoffice was totally destroyed, have our people been able to use money orders, on account of the lack of facilities and the necessary supplies. But, however, the local postoffice force has arranged to give the best service possible considering the facilities, and are now issuing money orders between the hours of nine in the morning and three in the afternoon. Patrons of the office should govern themselves accordingly, and not unnecessarily force undue inconvenience and hardships of those in charge.

Prof. Ernest Roseman of St. Marys now has charge of the students of room eight, formerly being taught by John Rose, the latter having resigned and now attending the Cape Normal in advanced studies of sciences. Mr. Roseman is a very pleasant and affable gentleman, and we would judge that our school will have made a good selection. He comes highly recommended, and reports are that he takes hold of the work with vigor and vim.
